A PAINTED BELT.

How a Widow and Her Adorer Were Deprived by a Party.
From the New York Times.

There was a widow, lady of comparative youth and personal attractions, residing in Canton, Conn., who had, for some time, unsuccessfully endeavored to induce the local dentist to accept the rank and emoluments of her late husband. The dentist, however, was a cautious man, and, although he greatly admired the widow, declined to commit himself. About a month ago Esquire Smedley, of Canton, gave a party, which was, altogether, the most brilliant affair of the kind within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The parlor of the Smedley mansion was crowded with guests, who overflowed into the hall, and rose gradually to the top of the staircase. In the course of the evening the widow became somewhat faint, is consequence of the heat, and requested the dentist to conduct her into the garden, where the fresh air might revive her. It did revive her to an immense extent, and the dentist found the garden a pleasant place that he decided to remain with his companion and smoke a cigar.

WHEN THE PAIR RETURNED to the parlor a curious phenomenon attracted unusual attention. The widow wore a wide belt beautifully ornamented with a painted vine of some undetermined botanical species. The dentist wore a black coat, and, to the amazement of the public, one side of his right sleeve was seen to be decorated with the green stem and leaves and the brilliant white and yellow flowers of the vine that ornamented the widow's belt. The conclusion drawn by wicked and heartless people was inevitable. There was no possible defense to be made. The widow wisely slipped out and went home, and the dentist followed her example, burning with rage and wishing that all Canton had but one back-tooth, that he might draw it with an old-fashioned tenonkey and without the use of anesthetics. Of course, the widow lost no time in pointing out to him that there was but one way in which he could repair his indiscretion and undo the injury which he had done her, and accordingly he was within a week brought to the altar, where he expiated his fault with much fortitude, and furnished an awful example of the wickedness of painted belts.

NEWS NOTES.

There has been a severe storm in the Red river country for two or three days, the thermometer falling very low. Reports from different points indicate from 25 to 30 degrees below zero. A Breckinridge special to the Pioneer says: Two children of Wm. Owens were frozen to death, and two men named H. D. Storck and James Nolan are missing, supposed to have been lost in the storm and frozen.

Mr. Van Duffy is a bachelor, residing at Sandoe, Cal., with whom his married sister left her baby boy a few hours. He had hard work amusing the child, and at length hit upon the expedient of tying it to one end of a long pole and holding it up to a tree, where it could suck the plums as they hung on the branches. The boy died from swallowing the stones, and his inventive uncle is being prosecuted for malicious mischief.

Two young men of high respectability, who were rivals in love, fought a duel with swords in the Bois de Boulogne, at Paris, the other day. At the first thrust one of the combatants was touched in the arm. The wounded man then rushed furiously upon his adversary, and inflicted eight stabs upon him in a few seconds. The latter was taken to his home in a precarious condition. A strict inquiry is being made into the affair. The duel was fought without seconds.

The Matrimonial Aid and Benevolent Society of Cincinnati started with great eclat last summer. Amongst at which the Mayor, several, and three couples were wedded under the society's auspices, yielded a profit of $2000, and it was announced that the work of encouraging poor young persons to marry would be pushed by giving them financial help. But the scheme has already failed. There is no money in the treasury, the young husbands and wives have not received the promised assistance, and it is even charged that the wedding rings presented to the three brides at the picnic, are only plated.

A Good-Size Triangle.

A large-size triangle was offered for sale yesterday by auctioneer Chaffield. Its sides are fully three feet long, and it is made of a bar of octagon steel an inch in diameter, bent into the required form. On a calm day it could be heard several miles when struck forcibly with a metal rod or hammer. These big triangles are used on large ranches to call the men to meal. In some localities in the East they serve to call congregations together.

Madame Adelina, Miss Weston, between Mason and Taylor streets, San Francisco, has received a large and elegant stock of fall and winter hats and bonnets. All will do well to call. Orders from a distance can easily be filled.

Suicide.

A distinguished scientist once said: "No man with a strong and healthy stomach ever committed suicide;" and yet many are suffering the tortures of the damned with Dyspepsia, when a single bottle of Dr. Minnie's English Dandelion Liver and Bitter Root Pill will give relief, and, if persisted in, will cure the worst case of this distressing trouble. This pill cures Tropid Liver and Bitterness, regulates the bowels, removes pimples from the face, cures yellow complexion, and brightens the hair; relieves pain in the sides and back; is sugar-coated, and GUARANTEED to be FULLY RESTORATIVE. It acts directly upon the coating of the stomach and liver; can be taken in any climate—wet or dry weather. Beware of imitations. The genuine has a covering of wax on the outside wrapped. Price 25 cents. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker, druggists.

It is astonishing how cheap Sol. Levy sells his goods! Not at all; because he is satisfied with only a small profit.

"Bless her diamond eyes." This expression is often used in praise of the bright eyes of the dear girls. But if you want the genuine brilliancy, you must go to Goegel's, on Virginia Street.

Mr. Astley Cooper's "Flat Reparative." The great English remedy—made more efficacious—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Loss of Masturb, nocturnal emissions, impotency, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a "quick nostrum," and produces results that are wonderful.

Why will you not? Send to A. E. Minnie, M. D., No. 17 Kearney street, San Francisco for the Restorative, and be cured. Price, 25 per bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Price 25 cents. For sale by all private druggists.

In the Eighties the emigration from Europe will be double what it was in the seventies. It will be of an entirely different and superior class. Instead of the miserable poor coming over on borrowed money or charity, to escape starving, the well-to-do will form the bulk of it. The middle-class of farmers have become discouraged. They have found that they cannot compete with American produce; they see our corn and wheat, pork and beef, selling ~~when~~ ^{when} they have sold before, and they know that they grew and waxed fat on lands that could be bought outright for less per acre than their yearly rental. These men are throwing up their leases by thousands, and the stream has already set in for America. Any state which gets one of these immigrants will be richer by the amount of his capital plus a thousand dollars, as each good citizen is worth at least that sum to the community. Nevada is almost unknown to these people; if they have heard of it at all they think it is a rock-bound country where a few mines full of silver are found, and all the rest of the state is a desert. Those who are informed as to the resources of Nevada, know that there are cheap, but fruitful farms for thousands, yet untouched. In any of the great valleys water is running to waste, and land lying idle which would support a large population. It would be of the greatest benefit to Nevada to spread information throughout the East and Europe as to the chances here. A great many well-informed citizens object to recommending the state to any one wanting a home. The Enterprise recently advised all who could get a little money, to go somewhere else and bring up their families. There is no state in the Union where a limited number of farms could be obtained and worked to better advantage, than in this one. A state immigration or information society would be very useful if properly conducted.

COMPELLED TO WORK.

The Commissioners of Storey county have determined to keep their jail clear of tramps and vagabonds by compelling all prisoners to do hard labor on the roads. As that roving class dread hard work more than anything else, the rigid enforcement of the new order of the Commissioners is likely to have the desired effect. Virginia City has been infested by a gang of these wretches, and the police descended upon them the other evening, capturing a round dozen.

Sheriff Walker of this county has constantly exercised on the streets the prisoners committed to his care, ever since the statute which provides that prisoners committed to jail shall be considered sentenced to road work was passed last March. The abundant exercise thus afforded our jail birds has had a salutary influence on their health, has benefited the roads, and has had a tendency to keep tramps and vagabonds out of the place.

HARD TIMES IN VIRGINIA.

The cessation of work in several of the mines of the Comstock and the recent crashing of the stock market has made many trouble in Virginia. An editorial in the Enterprise this morning begins as follows:

It is useless to seek to disguise the fact that Virginia City is in the midst of a crisis as severe as the people here were ~~ever~~ before tried in. The dreadful depreciation in stocks has been so unexpected that many who felt safe two weeks ago are now stranded. The necessity of reducing the working force in many of the mines has added to the idlers of the streets. There are many destitute families in the city, and many who heretofore have always responded to specific help are now carrying all the burdens they can possibly stagger under.

A telegram from Virginia this afternoon, published in another column, indicates that the worst has not yet been reached.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The National Republican Committee has ignored the request for the expulsion of Gen. C. Gorham. The California Republicans will feel aggrieved at the Committee's inaction in the matter.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

Timothy Sullivan fell 900 feet down the Ward shaft at Virginia yesterday morning.

The Record-Union has received twenty-seven Christmas stories, in competition for the prize of $50 offered by that journal.

Two Indian squatters got into a fight in San Diego on Sunday night, and one was literally cut to pieces with a knife. The murderer fled, but has been since captured and lodged in jail.

Says the Chico Record of last Monday: This morning, within a radius of ten miles surrounding Chico, some 1500 gang plows, employing as many drivers, and 10,000 miles and horses, have probably begun work.

Says the Vallejo Chronicle: With the exception of a little filling in at the curve on the outskirts of Suisun, the railroad is entirely completed, and cars could run over it to-day. The new depot at that town is well constructed and quite ornamental.

A Greek named Constantine Macrey, aged forty years, captain of a sloop, was brought from Venice to Stockton yesterday, apparently dying from inhalation of charcoal fumes. He kindled a charcoal fire in the cabin of his boat, closed the hatch and fell asleep. He died last evening.

During the past two or three days, says the Record-Union, a large coyote has been seen near the line of the Sacramento and Placerville railroad, in the vicinity of Alder creek, where he evidently has made his headquarters. These animals occasionally make raids upon the sheep on the Norris and San Juan grants, but this is the first one seen on this side of the American river, this side of Folsom, for many years.

The Tribune gives the following account of a little unpleasantness in a Carson saloon yesterday morning: An up-to-date sporting man, named James Coombs, was playing a game of cards with little Jimmy Burns, another of the gambling fraternity, and a heated discussion arising, James the larger drew a self-cocking revolver and struck his opponent over the head, causing a concussion of the latter's brain and the former's pistol. The ball crashed through the west end of the bar, narrowly escaping the bartender, and causing a general scattering among the lookers-on.

Republican County in Maine.

Boards from Augusta, Maine, assert that a count has been made by the Governor and Council of the election returns, which will result in delivering certificates to-morrow to a sufficient number of Fusionists (Democrat-Greenback) to give that party a majority in both branches of the Legislature. The dispatches assert that there is great feeling among the Republicans, owing to this condition of affairs.

When Love for a Pastor is Safe.

From the Boston Courier.

A popular clergymen was greatly bored by a lady who admired him without reserve. "Oh! my dear Mr. —," said she, last Sunday afternoon, "there isn't any harm in loving one's pastor, is there?" "Certainly not, Madam," replied the worthy cleric; "not the least in the world, so long as the feeling is not reciprocated."
